History of the White House.

C., was commenced in October, 1792. The commissioners of Washington—a sort of board of public works in those days—offered a premium for competitive plans, and the award was given to James Hoban. The building was modeled after the palace of the Duke of Loinster. It is 170 feet front by 86 feet deep. It has the appearance of being built of white marble, but the material is freestone, painted white, with Ionic portice, comprehending two stories, crowned with a balustrade. The interior is planned more for display than for health. It is curious to remember, for health. It is curious to remember, in this centennial year, that in 1814 the Papa: "Ob, don,t talk of it! ### Why He Didn't Marry.

The true reason Gov. Tilden never WESTERN STAR MILLS. married is not generally known. But the fact is that he was at one time devotedly attached to a young lady, and not Salina, having the courage to take her in his lap and ask her like a man, he wrote her a letter embodying his proposal of marletter embodying his proposal of marriage. The young lady read it, then they called in her father, then her paster "Western Star" Extra Brands. was invited to join the advisory council, then a couple of detectives came and were put on the jury, and finally two or three lawyers were sent for, and they all Custom Grinding done at Smoky can be Choked or Clossagreed that nobody could understand what under the sun the letter meant. And so it was returned to the writer for explanation, and the explanation was so much worse than the letter that they gave it up. And Uncle Sammy never tried to get married again, and, in fact, he to get married again, and, in fact, he didn't write any more letters until 1876.
